INSIGHTS:

- Total revenue is 203.20M from 170K units sold, with an average selling price of 1.19k. This indicates a premium-oriented sales pattern.
- Dell is the clear leader in total revenue followed by HP and ROK whereas brands like Apple contribute less to the total revenue.
- High-end category laptops contribute a massive revenue whereas budget laptops represent the smallest share.
- HP and DELL occupy the largest surface area. According to market trends HP holds the top position.
- According to High rating count HP and MSI holds the top position.
- Customers on Amazon are willing to pay more for better specifications and brand reliability.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

- Prioritize Dell & HP for promotions, inventory planning and featured listings.
- Introduce upselling strategies from Mid to high-end laptops.
- Analyze low sales for pricing issues, low ratings and poor availability
